H&H Tube Recipient of the TPJ – Tube & Pipe Journal® Industry Award 2010

VANDERBILT, MI, December 15, 2009 - H&H Tube announces that the company has been honored with the 2010 TPJ Industry Award presented by the Tube and Pipe Association (TPA). TPA is a technology affiliate of the Fabricators & Manufacturers Association, International ® (FMA) which honors industry success stories.

H&H Tube meets the criterion of an industry success story. With its high regard to customer service, quality, on-time delivery and short lead times, H&H Tube not only encompasses the essence of the TPJ Industry Award, but is a great example of a quality American manufacturing facility. In addition, H&H Tube has taken incredible steps over the past several years in reducing inventory levels, minimizing scrap and achieving safety goals while never losing focus on their customers.

“Our editors meet many fabricators every year, and every one of them is unique,” said Ed Youdell, group publisher for FMA Communications Inc., the company that publishes of TPJ-The Tube & Pipe Journal. “Some are in specific niches, and some are very diverse; some have just a handful of employees and some have dozens; some use all the latest technologies and others use tried-and-true machinery; but despite these differences, every fabricator makes a contribution to this industry. As our award winner, H & H is a fabricator we believe everyone can learn from. We selected H & H because the company exemplifies what metal fabrication is all about.”

“Every application goes through several reviews,” said Eric Lundin, editor of TPJ-The Tube & Pipe Journal®. “What really stood out for H & H Tube was what the company does for people. Not just its customers, but its employees and the people in its community, too. Its safety record speaks for itself,” Lundin continued. “Three years without a lost day says a lot about its commitment to a safe workplace. When customers call, they talk to a receptionist because the company doesn’t want them to have to deal with a frustrating and impersonal automated phone system. And to top it off, H & H supports nearly a dozen local charities and causes.”

“It is truly an honor to be recognized with this award.” comments Dan Dreyer, General Manager. “It is the result of the hard work of every employee; without their dedication and support, this award wouldn’t be possible.”

The award will be presented at the Metal Matters 2010 conference hosted by FMA. H&H Tube will also be featured on the cover of the January / February 2010 issue of TPJ – Tube & Pipe Journal ® with an editorial covering how its culture was recognized for the Industry Award.
